

Meeting Your Needs

Pennock understands the most important choice for maintaining health and well-being is the selection of a primary care physician or specialist who is dedicated to meeting your healthcare needs in a personal, professional, and progressive manner.

Just as every patient is unique, so is every health care professional. The Pennock Physician Network (PPN) prides itself on offering a wide range of healthcare services in a patient-centered medical home atmosphere. Each PPN provider is committed to comprehensive, quality care as well as compassionate and attentive treatment.

PPN physicians are highly qualified professionals trained at quality medical institutions across the United States who have now joined Pennock Health Services to offer quality care in your local community, close to home.

Pennock Physician Network (PPN) is a physician practice management group formed by Pennock Health Services in 2011.*
